

Welcome to our third CE program of 2020! Dr. Robert Lowe

'The Aesthetics of Occlusion: Back To The Future!'
Thursday, September 10, 2020

Course Objective:

According to Dr. Harold M. Shavell, who many consider "The Michelangelo of Dentistry", Occlusion is the Common Denominator of All Dentistry." Every restoration placed has the potential to profoundly alter the occlusal and/or the incisal relationships of the patients' dentition. Thus, understanding, visualizing, and reproducing human dentate morphology, regardless of the material used...is the key to long lasting dental restoration.

Reviewing fundamentals of direct restorative, crown and bridge will help all dentists improve the quality and art of the dentistry they provide. This lecture will take everyone "back to the future" to discover that the importance of sound technique and morphologic precision is just as important in today's dental practice as it was when Dr. Shavell practiced his craft.

Learning Objective:

- "It All Started With Alloy" - Biomorphaesthetics: The Quickest Way to Understand Occlusion...Guaranteed!
- "If You Can Draw It, Carve It" - Using The Principals of Biomorphaesthetics With Anterior and Posterior Composites
- Morphology and Occlusion—"Back To The Basics" - The Importance of Linguovision
- ABC Contacts—The Pokorny Construct—What Do Those Dots Mean?
- Occlusal Adjustment: Spheroiding or Biomorphaesthetic Reshaping...NOT Grinding
- The Art and Science of Provisionalization
